

A Card.
SOUTH CAROLINA MONUMENT ASSOCIATION.—The Executive Committee of the South Carolina Monument Association desire to say that they are responsible for no rumors to which their card of November 1st may have given rise, or interpretations which may have been put upon it. Contributions having been promised to them from all parts of the State, they were forced, in self-justification, to make known, in the only way at their command, why their enterprise had been abandoned.
The facts in the case were published, nothing more being considered necessary.
NOVEMBER 11, 1873.

The number of gin-houses burned in Georgia during the month of October, has averaged something over one per day, aggregating an actual loss, at the very lowest estimate, of $38,000. The consequent loss is nearly as great.

"Vae Victis."
IN the present excited state of the advertising media, we scarcely know how to address our friends. "Unprecedented Rushes," "Enormous Increase of Biz," and "captivating cigar pulls," a liberal profession of superlatives, together with the quietly-whispered-in-your-ear assurance that it is astonishing how the young men stand up to the grave demands upon their physical endurance, really has left our modest style in the shade. We have, however, no desire or love for the sensational. "Water always finds its level," and purchasers of 10 cent hams and cooking butter vamped under the name of "Gilt Edge," soon find their way back to where good goods only are kept; and where no promises are made which are not meant to be performed. Our stock is full, our business fair, (not unprecedented), terms are cash, and our goods are up to the standard, and have always maintained. We can promise no more. Verbum sap.

Pratt's Astral Oil
ABSOLUTELY SAFE.
Perfectly odorless. Always uniform. Illuminating qualities superior to Gas. Burns in any lamp, without danger of exploding or taking fire. Manufactured expressly to displace the use of volatile and dangerous oils. Its safety under every possible test, and its perfect burning qualities are proved by its continued use in over 300,000 families. Millions of millions have been sold, and no accident—directly or indirectly—has ever occurred from burning, storing or handling it. The immense yearly loss to life and property, resulting from the use of cheap and dangerous oils in the United States, is appalling. The Insurance Companies and Fire Commissioners throughout the country recommend the ASTRAL as the best safe-guard when lamps are used. Send for Circular. WM. B. STANLEY, Columbia, has a complete stock at all times.
